

Amateur Radio will suffer, perhaps die, if BPL is allowed. The public service benefit of Amateur Radio is well documented, i.e. World Trade Center, natural disasters, and location of missing persons. The interference to the ham bands from BPL will create so much noise that communication will not be possible. This has confirmed in field research.

Let corporate America find another method for high speed internet access.